

Global forum on Incontinence GFI

Wang Hai-Tao, Research Fellow, China Research Centre on Ageing.

The number of elderly people in China has increased dramatically over the past few years. By 2050, forecasts suggest that there will be about 430 million people over 60, accounting for about one third of the total population, and nearly 100 million over the age of 80.

Dr. Giovanni Lamura, Italian National Institute of Health and Science on Ageing, (INRCA)
Ancona, Italy / Eurocarers.

Carers of older people with incontinence commonly have a lower quality of life, but this can be changed through: accessible and timely information, greater product choice and support from healthcare professionals